

SME NEWS

Tell the world about your business. Become a part of something greater

Home > Apparel & Textile >

APPAREL & TEXTILE

IHGF offers virtual textiles fair

By Home Textiles Today

The Export Promotion Council for Handicrafts India announced that the IHGF Virtual Textiles Fair will take place June 15-18.

The Export Promotion Council for Handicrafts India announced that this year's IHGF Delhi Fair will be held virtually as the IHGF Textiles Virtual Fair June 15-18.

Officials say products showcased during the exhibition will include a range of soft goods for bedding, kitchens and bathrooms; wall décor including tapestries; draperies; area rugs and throws; upholstery fabrics, including hand-loomed, jacquard and power-loomed fabrics; wall and ceiling coverings; hammocks; trimmings and more. Featured techniques include appliqué, tie-dye, hand block printing, embroidery, sari craft, quilting, flocking, patchwork, mirror and bead work, lacework, and trims and tassels, among others.

A number of sustainable products, including cotton and wool, jute, cane, bamboo and recyclable components will also play a prominent role in the proceedings.

can opt-out if you wish. Accept Read More

The fair, which has been a mainstay for more than 25 years, draws buyers from across North America, South America, Asia and Europe.

To learn more, or to register for the virtual textiles fair, visit www.ihgftextiles.in/register.

Thomas Lester is Digital/Managing Editor for Home Accents Today. A graduate of Emory & Henry College's Mass Communications program, Lester spent a dozen years working for newspapers in Virginia and North Carolina covering an array of subjects, ranging from community news, government, education, ACC sports, professional baseball and more before joining Home Accents Today in 2013. Reach out to me with your story ideas, tips and more at tlester@homeaccentstoday.com.

Home Textiles Today

Home textile

Home Textiles Today

IHGF

IHGF Delhi Fair

Rugs

Soft Goods

Home Textiles Today - 18 Posts - 0

Comments

Home Textiles Today is the market-leading brand covering the home textiles market, offering a comprehensive package of print and online products.